Six months in Guatemala

My name is Julia. Last year, I spent six months in Guatemala. I worked as a Peace Corps volunteer and I taught music in a school in the mountains. I lived in a small house in the village. Every morning I walked up the mountain to the school. The village was quite poor and there weren't any buses. I didn't have a car or a bicycle. It was hard work, but I liked it and I was happy.

Classes started at 8:00 in the morning and we usually sang a song to start the class. Some of the children played musical instruments. The school had some drums and some guitars.

Sometimes we had classes outside the school under a tree. School finished at 12:00. I liked my job and I loved the children. I met some nice people and I had some good friends in the village.

Interviewer: How old were you in this photo?

Jake: I'm not sure. I think I was five.

Interviewer: Where were you?

Jake: We were in Brisbane, Australia.

Interviewer: Wow! Were you born in Australia?

Jake: No, I wasn't. I was born in Atlanta, Georgia. This picture was on a vacation. My dad was an artist and he was interested in the Australian landscape. This was my first overseas vacation. My brothers and I were very lucky. Every year, we were in a different country on vacation. It was fantastic!

Interviewer: What can you remember about Australia?

Jake: I remember the awesome colors. It was very hot, of course. There were a lot of interesting birds and animals, and the food was delicious.

Interviewer: What are you carrying in the photo?

Jake: That is my camera! I was interested in photography when I was five years old.
